OBITUARY.

Respectfully Dedicated To The Memory Of The Dead.

The infant child of Orton and Eva Wade Brown, of Chicago, died Saturday night aged eight months. Burial yesterday afternoon at five o'clock in the Paris cemetery. Services at the grave by Eld. J. S. Sweeney. The pall-bearers were Rion Dow, Swift Champ, Thos. Mitchell and Howard Edwards.

Mary Aileen, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Doyle, died Sunday morning, aged eight months. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Catholic Church, the sermon being conducted by Rev. Father Ryan. The pall-bearers were Frank Driscoll, Murry Higgins, Frank Grosche, Martin Doyle, James Higgins, Dan Roche, Jr.

R. L. Cummins, an esteemed citizen of the Jacksonville precinct, died Saturday after a lingering illness, in the sixty-fifth year of his age. The largest funeral procession ever seen in this section followed his remains to their last resting place. The following gentlemen were pall-bearers: James E. Rowland, Robt. Wilmoth, W. M. Hinton, Sr., W. A. Gaites, H. C. Smith, W. O. Shropshire, George Bell, Hardin Lucas.

[Contributed]

Mr. Reuben Cummins died at his home at ten p. m., July 30th, and was buried at Jacksonville, August 1st, at four p. m. He had been a great sufferer for several years, but he did not murmur. His patient endurance repaid the gentle and loving wife for her faithfulness in nursing, and when she opined his dust to mother earth from whence it came, she felt that the "labor of love" was but a brief. Few men possessed nobler traits of heart and soul than he. His name was a synonym of kindness and love. He was a staunch friend, exemplary citizen, a true, faithful and loving husband. The gentle wife will feel so intensely the gloom and darkness his passing away has cast over her heart. He was pure and unsullied in the walks of life. His unbounded popularity was attested by a great number of friends from Paris where he was so favorably known, and also from his own neighborhood and surrounding sections, gathering together on the funeral occasion. The funeral was without ostentation as the life of the man had been, and each friend was desirous of dropping the tear of sympathy and to pay the last tribute of respect, and he attendance was swelled beyond the capacity of the deceased's beautiful home. The remarks of Elders Sweeney and Thomas were pathetic and appropriate, though not more so than the lovely flowers in great profusion—beautiful emblems of sunshine and joy—attesting with their dumb mouths that sunshine which he, too, had strewn in the lives of others as they journeyed on their sad or happy way—and many blessed him as he was laid to rest. Truly "death loves a shining mark." Peace to his noble ashes. May we all emulate his beautiful traits of character, and live as unsullied a life as he.

New Goods at Old Prices.

At 12 o'clock on the night of July 28th the Dingley Tariff Bill took effect, and all the imported Dry Goods, Hosiery, Gloves and Notions will be advanced in price by the importers and manufacturers to double what they were under the Wilson Bill. Anticipating this, I bought my Fall and Winter Silks, Woolens and Silk and Wool-Mixed Dress Goods, and have all the new weaves of Drap d'Etes, Coverts, Moscoviettas, Armour Weaves, etc., now in store, all of which will, as long as any of them last, be sold at the old low prices, but when these are gone there will be no more to be purchased in the market at low prices. Everything affected by the new tariff will advance in first hands and we retailers will be compelled to go with the procession, whether agreeable or not. If you will come to my store now you can make a selection of a nice dress cheap, but if you postpone your call, in a short time our present stock will be sold out and you will be left.
